

Fiber Optic Cable Cantilever Twisted Single Machine Manufacturer

AI Overview

Leading manufacturers of cantilever twisted single machines for fiber optic cables include HONGKAI, Dongguan Wirecan Technology, and HAGSIN, offering advanced twisting solutions with full production support. Key Manufacturers and Their Offerings

HONGKAI Cable Machinery produces cantilever single twisting machines designed for high-quality wire and cable production. Their machines feature a cantilever structure for stability and precision, a horizontal tension pay-off stand, PLC Siemens electric control box, and a wire collection device. These machines are suitable for twisting multiple wires into a single thicker wire, with optional wrapping for insulation or shielding.

Dongguan Wirecan Technology Co., Ltd. specializes in optical cable equipment and offers cantilever single-twisting machines for fiber optic cables. Their machines are designed to twist a single pair of insulated conductors or wires, featuring a cantilever design, pay-off system, twisting section, and tensioning mechanism to ensure uniformity. The company also provides technical support, pre-sale consultation, and after-sale service, including factory planning and production line solutions.

HAGSIN Mechanical & Electrical Equipment Co., Ltd. is a leading Chinese manufacturer of electric wire, cable, and optical fiber cable machinery. Their cantilever single-twisting machines are part of a comprehensive optical fiber cable production line, including outdoor and indoor optical cable production, tight buffer fiber extruding lines, multi-core soft optical cable production, and FTTH optical cable lines. HAGSIN offers CE/ISO9001 certified machines, international installation support, and a one-year warranty, with global exports to over 40 countries.
