

Pricing list for North Korean grid cable trays

AI Overview

Exact North Korean cable tray prices are not publicly listed, but export data and regional comparisons suggest a wide range depending on material, type, and order volume. North Korean Export Data North Korea exports cable trays in limited quantities, primarily to nearby Asian markets. According to shipment records, the import price for North Korean cable trays varies significantly, reflecting small-scale exports, material type, and shipping costs. While precise per-meter or per-unit prices are not disclosed, historical data indicates that bulk shipments are priced lower than retail equivalents, similar to other regional suppliers.

General Cable Tray Pricing Context

For comparison, cable tray prices in nearby markets (China, Korea, India) provide a reference point:

- Steel cable trays: $2–$25 per meter depending on thickness, width, and coating.
- Stainless steel trays: Higher-end, corrosion-resistant, typically $10–$25 per meter.
- Aluminum trays: Lightweight and rust-proof, $5–$20 per meter.
- Plastic or FRP trays: Budget-friendly, $2–$15 per meter, suitable for light loads or corrosive environments.

Bulk orders can reduce costs by 20–50%, depending on supplier and shipping arrangements. Ladder trays are generally more expensive than perforated or wire mesh trays due to higher material usage and load capacity.

Factors Affecting North Korean Cable Tray Prices

- Material Type: Steel, stainless steel, aluminum, or FRP.
- Tray Design: Ladder, perforated, solid-bottom, or channel trays.
- Order Volume: Larger shipments reduce per-unit cost.
- Shipping and Import Restrictions: North Korean exports are subject to international sanctions, which can increase costs and limit availability.
- Custom Requirements: Special coatings, dimensions, or load capacities can significantly affect pricing.

Practical Guidance

For project planning, consider using regional suppliers as a benchmark for cost estimation.
