

Supplier of upgraded integrated container racks

AI Overview

Several suppliers offer upgraded integrated container racks, including custom, modular, and turnkey solutions for industrial and shipping applications. Recommended Suppliers

1. Kammerer KDI Kammerer KDI specializes in custom shipping racks and containers tailored to specific industry needs, particularly for automotive components. Their racks are fabricated from steel, aluminum, or combinations, designed for durability, optimal support, and protection during transport. They focus on space optimization and logistical efficiency, with racks featuring dividers, supports, and cushioning to secure products during transit .
2. Modul-System Modul-System provides container solutions integrated with racking systems, offering turnkey options that include electricity, ventilation, insulation, and decals. Their containers range from 8 to 40 feet and can be purchased or rented pre-installed with racking. The system is highly customizable, suitable for industries like construction, oil and gas, shipping, and energy .
3. Universal Containers Universal Containers offers durable shipping container racking and shelving designed for easy installation and maximum storage efficiency. Their systems include 1-tier to 4-tier shelving, attachable to container D-rings without permanent modifications. These racks are ideal for industrial storage, project management, and personal use, providing flexibility and long-term durability .
4. Alibaba Industrial Suppliers Alibaba lists a variety of container racks for warehouses, ports, and manufacturing facilities, including modular, mobile, and expandable systems. These racks support standard pallet dimensions and forklift handling, and are engineered for heavy-duty, long-term use. They are suitable for IBCs, tote bins, and bulk storage, offering scalability for future storage needs .
