

Which company offers the cheapest ladder-type cable trays

AI Overview

For the lowest prices on ladder-style cable trays, online marketplaces like eBay and specialized suppliers like Cabletiesandmore offer options starting as low as $0.61 per foot. Overview of Affordable Options Cabletiesandmore offers economical ladder trays with prices starting at $0.61 per foot, making it one of the cheapest sources for budget-conscious buyers while maintaining quality for light-duty applications. eBay provides a wide range of ladder cable trays, including pre-owned and new options, with some items priced as low as $10-$35 per section, depending on size and material. This platform is ideal for small-scale purchases or discounted bulk lots. Platt Electric Supply lists straight cable ladder trays starting around $64 for aluminum 12-foot sections, with clearance items occasionally available at lower prices. American Tech Supply offers wholesale ladder racks in 5-foot and 10-foot lengths, which can reduce shipping costs and overall price for contractors purchasing multiple units. Considerations When Choosing Material: Steel, aluminum, and galvanized options vary in price; aluminum is generally cheaper than stainless steel but may have lower load capacity. Length and Width: Shorter sections (5-6 feet) often cost less per unit and reduce shipping costs. Accessories: Fittings, bends, and splice kits can add to the total cost; some suppliers bundle these for savings. Shipping: Online marketplaces like eBay and Cabletiesandmore may offer free or low-cost shipping for smaller orders, which can make them more economical than traditional distributors. Recommendation For maximum cost savings, start with Cabletiesandmore for small to medium projects due to their low per-foot pricing and variety of sizes. For larger or bulk orders, Platt Electric Supply and American Tech Supply provide competitive pricing with clearance and wholesale options. eBay is a good alternativ...
